TUENDAY, APRIL 2, 1878.

Local Rates on the Baltimore & Ohio Ratiroad. It seems by the last Shepherdstown Register that the people of Jefferson county, West Virginia, have become stirred up on the subject of local freights on the Baltimore & Ohio road. We read that

"At a recent meeting of the County Council, held at Kearneysville, Geo. W.
Etchelberger, John H. Strider, Eqra, and Col. Eobert W. Baylor, were appointed a committee to drait a petition to be presented to the next Legislature of this State, setting forth the fact of the iglary and injustice being done by the B.
& O.R. R. Company, in their discrimination of freight charges upon the products of the industries of our State, and especially this county."

According to the report of the paper

According to the report of the paper from which we quote, the disensaion in the council developed the following fact:

the council developed the following fact:

"That upon a careful computation of the difference in the annual amount of freight charges, upon grain and other shipments from Jefferson county, compared with the charges made upon other roads, for similar freights and distances, it amounted to eith thousand dollars annually, or two millions four hundred thouand dollars, for the forty years the road has been freighting from that county."

The recent of proceedings in the Coun-

The report of proceedings in the County Council further sets forth that inasuch as the last annual report of the railroad company shows a surplus fund, hich represents net earnings, to the amount of $30,139,312, it is plain that it largely came out of the charges upon local transportation. This is the charge, in effect, made in the published proceed ings of the meeting. Therefore the meeting adopted a petition to the two houses of the West Virginia Legislature, setting forth that the local rates on the railroad are "proving ruinous" to their prosperity-"depressing the value of their lands," and "driving capital and enterprise" out of the county. "And whereas," says the

"The B. & O. Railroad Company is at this time charging 18 cents per hundred pounds on grain and other freights from Charlestown, Jefferson county, W. Va., to the city of Baltimore, distant 91 miles, men busily engaged in prosecuting the work of completion. It is a very fine piece of marine architecture, and will prove a big card for Cincinnati and Captain Dumont in the Southern waters. She is being constructed entirely for the use of exparsionists. She will take hear it is only charging upon the same character of freight, from Chicago, Ill., to Baltimore City, 830 miles 17 cents per Bailimore City, $30 miles 17 ceats per hundred pounds."

Therefore, the petitioners pray the Legislature of West Virginia to grant them the relief which is to be obtained under section 9, articlexi of the State Constitution, which section reads as follows:

"Railroads heretofore constructed, or that may hereafter be constructed in this State, are hereby declared public highways, and shall be free to all persons for the transportation of their persons and property thereou, under such regulations as shall be prescribed by law; and the Legislature shall, from time to time, pass laws applicable to all railroad corporations in the State, establishing reasonable maximum rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freights, and providing for the correction of abuses, the prevention of unjust discriminations between through and local or way freight and passenger tarifis, and for the protection of the just rights of the public and shall enforce such laws by adequate penalties."

Good Ferling in the South Carolina newspapers of Governor Wade Hampton's research trip from Columbia to Anderson, in that state, show more fully than the accounts received by telegraph the general good feeling that exists among all classes there, and leave no room to doubt that Senator Howe would have a poor chance of an election as Justice of the Peace if he was a candidate in the state where he highs that Mr. Chamberlain should be in the Governor's chair. At every railroad station crowds awaited Governor Hampton's coming, and all classes united in testifying to the popularity of his course. In a brief speech from the car Pittsburgh, in 1839. Hampton's coming, and all classes united in testifying to the popularity of his course. In a brief speech from the car platform at Newberry the Governor said:

"I have tried to translate into acts the words I pronounced here last year, that if elected I would be the Governor of the whole people, 'knowing no race, recognizing all citizens of South Carolina as Carolinans, and extending to each the follest protection of the law.' I have tried to dental the same rule shall guide me that, and the same rule shall guide me that same rule sha service.

From the law. I have tried to do that, and the same rule shall guide me to the end of my term. I come to you to day pointing back to the condition of things when I spoke to you last, and the conditions which exist now. What they were you all can see. Peace reigns supremental aware respected and enforced every where. There are no disturbances and no scenes of bloodshed, We are on the high road to prosperity. We have every thing in the inture to encourage us, and all this had been accomplished—why? Because your Representatives, the Governor and the Legislature, have a tood squarely and honestly on the platform, and have fulfilled the pledge made in the last campaign."

At Helena a colored woman, advancing from the crowd, said: "Governor Humpton! You stay Governor! We's had a better time since you was made Governor than we's had since the wor!" "You stay Governor!" is likely to be made the campaign motto in South Carolina this year, and there is little doubt of its effectiveness.

Not long since we stated that the Pres Not long since we stated that the Irve byterians were equal in numbers, in the United States, to the Roman Catholics. Certain individuals questioned the correctness of our assertion. We refer all doubters to the census reports for 1870 doubters to the census reports for 1870 which show, in this country, 6,263 Presbyterian church organizations to 4,127 maintained by the Roman Catholics. In these Presbyterian (regular) church edifices are sittings for 2,198,900 persons while in the Roman Catholic edifices are seatings for only 1,990,514, while the 15,273 churches of the Methodists have scattings for 6,528,209. The Congregationalists are nearly as numerous as the Catholics. The Cleveland Heridi, in speaking of the alleged comparative growth of the Romanists in this country, says:

and, in speaking of the Romanists in this country, says:

"The Catholic Church in the United States increases its membership by immigration rather than by conversions. The period of its greatest growth was the period of enormous influx of population from the Catholic countries of Europe. That period ended with the financial crash of 1873 and the hard times that followed it. The next ceasus will tell a very different story from the last one, of the comparative increase of Catholic and Protestant churches. The Catholic question as it is called, is nowhere an important issue cave in two or three cities or States, and where the Protestants outnumber the adherents of the Roman church in proportion of ten to one is a demagogue's trick, which all sensible, well-informed men should condemn.

Thursday next, was organized by electing Gen I. H. Duval, President; H. G. Lasear, Vice President; and D. W. Stier, Secretary. Dr. G. W. Caldwell, the present incumbent, was nominated for Mayor without a dissenting voice. The doctor stated to the convention that he would much rather they would nominate some one else, as the office was unsought for by him; that it was against his interests to have it, and that it was a very unpleasant position for him to occupy. He beged to be excused, but no sort of excuse would be accepted by the convention. After the Doctor had been declared the choice of the convention for Mayor, he very frankly informed them that if elected that they need not expect him to modify the course pursued by him the past year.
He had fought whiskey from youth up and would continue to fight it the balance of his days. The following named gentlemen were chosen to serve as councilmen: John Ervin, John Reid, H. C. Taylor, R. F. Craig, John Blankensop Sr., and A. W. Hall, Wheeler Reeves was chosen for Clerk, and Thomas Bond for Street Commissioner. The meeting throughout was one of the most harmonique and the best attendnoney; still a moderate amount of hard ash rather induces contentment than money, still a moderate amount of narcah rather induces contentment than otherwise.

When a man who hits his thumb instead of the tack with his hammer refrains from using "the plain language," it is good evidence of a thorough conversion. The "natural man" connot accomplish such a feat.

Incurring a Tremendous Risk.
They incur a tremendous risk who sojourn or emigrate to reside in districts where malarial disease is prevalent, without medicinal means of fortifying their systems against the periodic scourge. The danger to billious subjects, and to those who lack bodily stamina, is particularly serious. A preventive and curative agent of known anti-malarial efficacy should be frequently used and constantly kept at hand by such persons; and on none can they rely with such certainty of protection and aid as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This
